DR. SHEE GETS BACK MONEY IN BIG LAND CASE

Westby Physician is Awarded Judgment of $25,000 Against the Lone Star Immigration Company of Texas

MONEY INVESTED IN TEXAS LANDS BY FRAUD RETURNED

Judge Luse Holds Land Company Officials Misrepresented the Lands

UNDER a decision rendered by Judge C. Z. Luse in United States court here, Dr. J. Shee of Westby will recover approximately $25,000 from the Lone Star Immigration company of Texas as a result of this firm making fraudulent representations, the court claims, in the sale of land to the plaintiff. Under the terms of the decision, Dr. Shee is required to quit claim to the company the land he purchased, and all contracts, agreements and notes are cancelled.

Judge Luse in his memorandum decision holds that "the defendants represented to the plaintiff that the lands were level, well drained, good irrigable lands, with cheap and accessible water rights and easily cleared. It was further represented that the labor market was such that the lands could be cheaply and promptly cleared. These representations and particularly those with reference to the lands being good, level, well drained lands practically irrigable, were false and untrue and materially so. Plaintiff was unacquainted with irrigated lands and ignorant of what was necessary to make lands practically irrigable.

Text of Decision

The court holds further as follows:

"That the defendants, each and all of them, should be retained and enjoined from selling, negotiating or otherwise disposing of the obligations of the plaintiff which the defendants or any of them possess or control, and defendants be required to surrender into court all such obligations owned, possessed or controlled by them or either or any of them, within thirty days after the date of the decree.

"That the contracts entered into between the plaintiff and the defendant immigration company be surrendered and cancelled.

"That the notes signed by the plaintiff pursuant to the terms of the contracts, together with the contract whereby plaintiff assumed to pay certain lien notes, be cancelled and annulled, except so far as they are now owned by others than the defendants.

Recovers Full Judgment

"That the plaintiff have and recover of the defendants judgment for the return of the entire purchase price of the lands, with interest at six per cent."

This case was tried in the November term of United States court here. The decision of Judge Luse was received today by Winter, Morris and Holmes, attorneys for Dr. Shee.

IRISH FREE STATE TO PUT DOWN REVOLT AT ANY COST SAYS COSGRAVE STATEMENT

DUBLIN.—President Cosgrave Saturday issued a "last word" statement on the peace question in which he says that the government "is determined to put down this revolt against democracy regardless of the cost."

"Let no man be deceived," the statement says, "if anyone continues in this unnatural war upon his own people after the expiration of the stated period of amnesty, he must be prepared to pay the price in full, for there will be no going back upon this.

"Furthermore it must be clearly understood that there will be no meeting for negotiations on the part of the government with De Valera, Liam Lynch, or any other collaborator in destruction, male or female."

(The amnesty period proclaimed by the Free State government on February 8 as the result of Liam Deasy's peace appeal, will expire Sunday.)

President Cosgrave's statement shared public interest with the truce proposal of the association of neutral members of the Irish Republican army. The organization, which is understood to have been interested for some time in finding a solution for Ireland's internal troubles, suggests that the Free State government and the republicans cease their hostilities for one month, during which time the neutrals would put forth their peace proposals. The suggestion has been sent to leaders on both sides with a request for a reply by February 23.

VIROQUA MERCHANT DISAPPEARS ON HIS WAY TO THIS CITY

John H. Quick Missing Since Feb. 5; Was Bound for La Crosse to Buy Supplies

FAMILY FEARS HE MAY HAVE BECOME DEMENTED ON TRIP

Suffered Headaches Since Auto Accident Several Months Ago

VIROQUA, Wis.—Mystery surrounds the disappearance of John H. Quick, Viroqua merchant, who left this city on Monday morning, February 5, and has not been seen since. Mr. Quick conducts a grocery store in Viroqua and one at Soldiers Grove.

He left Viroqua alone with the intentions of purchasing goods in La Crosse for his two stores. He had a large amount of money with him and it is feared that he has met with foul play.

It is also feared by his family that he may have become demented, as he had suffered from severe headaches since an automobile accident a few months ago, when he was injured. Suffering with a severe headache he was in a state of coma for several hours during one day.

Mr. Quick was highly successful as a business man having splendid trade at both stores. The Soldiers Grove store was recently opened. The family is desirous of any information which may be gained concerning his whereabouts. He is six feet in height, weighs 138 pounds and was wearing a dark suit, gray cap and mackinaw. He has light hair and blue eyes. Letters have been sent to many newspapers in the state asking their help in locating the missing man.

RUBBER STAMP SIGNATURE IS LEGAL, RULING

MADISON, Wis.—Sol Levitan, state treasurer, can sign his thousands of checks with a rubber stamp, if he so desires, R. M. Hoyt, deputy attorney general, advised him Saturday. He said that the Supreme court had held that rubber stamp signatures were in writing, and consequently legal.

"In case losses should arise, however through carelessness in permitting the rubber stamp to become accessible to unauthorized persons or through use of forged stamps, a liability might arise upon your bond as state treasurer," Mr. Hoyt held. "That is a matter of policy for the treasurer to decide."

DOCTOR IS ARRESTED CHARGED WITH DEATH OF SAN DIEGO DANCER

SAN DIEGO, Cal.—Dr. Louis L. Jacobs, physician to Camp Kearny, was arrested by county officers Saturday under an indictment returned Friday by the grand jury charging him with having murdered Fritzi Mann, pretty San Diego dancer, whose body was found on the beach at Torrey Pines four weeks ago.

RETURN OPEN VERDICT IN CROSSING DEATH

CHICAGO, Ill.—A coroner's jury returned an open verdict that Miss Helen Hoppin of Waukesha, Wis., an art student who was killed by a Chicago & Northwestern train at a street crossing in Winnetka, met death "while trying to cross the tracks while the gates were lowered." The young woman was visiting friends in the suburbs.

NEVADA AGAIN "WET"

RENO, Nev.—Nevada was back into the "wet" column Saturday, the legislature having repealed over the governor's veto Friday the existing prohibition laws. At the same time the legislature passed the Whitely prohibition law, adopting the Volstead law as the law of Nevada, but until the governor signs it, no state law will prohibit the liquor traffic. Doubt as to the constitutionality of the Whitely law may lead to its veto.

Blaine Opposes Plan To Abolish The State Guard

MADISON, Wis.—Governor J. J. Blaine opposes the bill recommended for passage in the Wisconsin assembly calling for complete abolition of the national guard, Frank Metcalf, Milwaukee, reported Saturday to the legislative conference of the State Federation of Labor. He was a member of a special committee appointed to wait on the governor in an effort to receive assurance that he would sign the measure if passed.

According to the committee report, the governor declared that the bill to abolish the guard would not pass. He is said to have spoken in favor of the state's military organization and to have declared that should the guard be done away with, in times of trouble it would be necessary to call in federal troops.

ONE DRIVER HURT IN COLLISIONS OF STREET CAR, AUTOS

Weisse Sash and Door Company Truck and Trolley Collide Opposite Car Barns

FUNK CAR AND CASPERSON TRUCK SMASH; ONE MAN HURT

Skidding Automobile Snaps off Light Standard

TWO collisions in which three automobiles and one street car figured, marked the day's accident list on Friday. One driver was slightly injured, necessitating a doctor's treatment.

A truck of the Weisse Sash and Door company, driven by John Trinkes, going south on Third street and seeking to continue south across the Northwestern tracks, opposite the street car barn, met a street car northbound. The trolley car was operated by Motorman Harrier. One window in the front of the street car was broken. The fenders, lamps, radiator and cab on the truck were crumpled. Trinkes escaped injury.

A Pierce-Arrow sedan, owned by the Funk family, and driven by "Jimmy" Wittenberg, was in a collision with a milk truck of Casperson's, at Kane and St. Andrews streets. George Wittenberg, driver of the milk truck, was badly cut about the right eye and was taken to the office of Dr. A. Gunderson for treatment. "Jimmy" Wittenberg escaped injury. His car was not badly damaged, it was said. The milk truck was slightly damaged.

An automobile skidded at Clinton and Avon streets and crashed into one of the new ornamental lamp standards, across the street from the K. P. home, breaking the iron post in two as though it were a match stick.

BRITISH DEBT PLAN RECEIVES O.K. OF SENATE

Bill for Funding War Debt Goes to Conference on Changes Voted by Upper House

VOTE TO RESTORE SHIPPING BILL TO PRIVILEGED STATUS

Takes Place as Unfinished Business With Debt Bill Out of the Way

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Congressional approval of the British debt funding settlement virtually was completed Friday night when the senate passed the house funding bill. The vote was 70 to 13.

The bill was returned to the house for adjustment of amendments not relating to the plan for funding the British debt of $4,604,000,000 over a term of 62 years at reduced interest rate, but providing that settlements with other debtor nations must have the approval of congress instead of the president.

Two Changes in Dispute

Only two important amendments are in dispute between the senate and house, both having been adopted Friday without a record vote. One by Senator Robinson, provides that funding agreements negotiated with other debtor nations be subject to the approval of congress instead of the president. The other amendment by Senator Harris, democrat, Georgia, enlarges the funding commission to eight members and stipulates that not more than four may be members of one political party. This in effect will place three democrats on the commission, which at present includes Secretary Mellon of the treasury as ex-officio chairman and four republicans.

The roll call follows:

For the Bill—70

Democrats—24: Bayard, Broussard, Caraway, Dial, Fletcher, George, Glass, Harrison, Jones, N. M., King, Myers, Overman, Owen, Pittman, Pomerene, Ransdell, Robinson, Sheppard, Shields, Smith, Stanley, Swanson, Underwood, Williams.

Against the Bill—18

Republicans—4: Borah, France, Md., La Follette, Norris.

Democrats—9: Ashurst, Gerry, Heflin, Hitchcock, McKellar, Reed, Mo., Trammel, Walsh, Mass., Walsh, Mont.

Shipping Bill to Fore

The administration shipping bill again held privileged status in the senate Saturday after the passage of the British debt funding bill.

The shipping measure was restored to its position as the unfinished business of the senate on motion of Senator Jones, republican, Washington, who has it in charge, after a move for adjournment by Senator Robinson, democrat, Arkansas, had been defeated 38 to 30. This move was not regarded as a test of strength on the bill since a number of senators on both sides were absent, and Senator Robinson abandoned his fight against Senator Jones' motion when the latter assured him he did not purpose to attempt to proceed with consideration of the measure Friday night. The shipping bill lost its status as the senate's unfinished business Monday after having held it since December 11, a parliamentary tangle giving the debt funding measure clear right of way.

Debate is Spirited

Eight lively hours preceded the passage of the debt funding bill. At times the debate was spirited to the point of bitterness, but the clean cut administration victory was never in doubt. The defeat of the Hitchcock amendment to maintain the British interest charges at a rate as high as rates paid by this government and the speech of Senator Glass of Virginia broke the back of the opposition. The impassioned plea of the Virginia senator for favorable action and his fervid defense of Great Britain came near the close of the long day.

Lenroot Leads Defense

The leaders of the opposition were La Follette, Reed, McKellar, Heflin, Trammell and Norris, while Smoot, Lenroot, Glass and Underwood commanded the defending forces. La Follette made the longest of all the speeches, in which he denounced Secretary Mellon, ridiculed the president and lambasted the majority membership of the finance committee, for what he charged was its undue and unwarranted haste in rushing the bill to a final vote.

The last day arguments of the opposition were principally based on

BIGAMY CHARGES ARE ORDERED MADE AGAINST ELLIOTT

RE-WED LESS THAN THREE MONTHS AFTER DIVORCE

Hear Court Cases Wednesday; Motion Day Set for Saturday

JUDGE HIGBEE on Saturday instructed District Attorney Gordon to bring charges of bigamy against Martin H. Elliott. This is the latest turn in the divorce proceedings instituted by Mrs. Nellie I. Elliott last summer against Elliott.

Elliott was divorced by his first wife, Estelle, on February 19, 1920, in Richland county. He remarried on May 3, 1920, before the expiration of the year when the divorce would be effective. Judge Higbee decided that Elliott should be prosecuted on charges of bigamy.

Investigation by divorce counsel, on orders of the court here, disclosed that the minutes of the judge in Richland county showed that a divorce had been granted Mrs. Estelle Elliott against Martin H. Elliott but that the attorneys in the case had never been paid, therefore judgment had never been entered in the records of the clerk of the court.

The second Mrs. Elliott in her complaint charged Elliott with failing to properly support her and their two children, who were one year and four months old at the time the complaint was filed, and making it necessary for Mrs. Elliott to go with her children to her parents' home. Mrs. Elliott also charged that her husband consorted with a married woman, taking her to dances and other places, while the woman's husband was serving a term in the county jail.

Mrs. Elliott's case had been up before Judge Higbee several times but had been continued by the judge each time in order to obtain more information.

Judgment was entered for George Sather of West Salem, sued by C. R. Austin, Ruth Austin and Emeline Burdick for a total of $9,000 for injuries alleged to have been sustained in a collision with Sather's car. The jury found a special verdict for Sather and awarded him $85 damages.

Judge Higbee announced he would begin the hearing of court cases next Wednesday.

Motion day will be held next Saturday.

MEASURE IS READY FOR INTRODUCTION EARLY NEXT WEEK

Bill Estimated to Raise Eight Millions Annually Through Graduated Fees

HIGHER CHARGES TO BE MADE AGAINST TRUCKS AND BUSSES

Visiting Cars Taxed After Ten Days; Boost Motorcycle Fees

MADISON, Wis.—The general highway tax bill, estimated to raise $8,000,000 annually by a graduated license fee based upon automobile weight, is prepared for introduction, and will be brought into the legislature next week by the joint highway committee, Senator George Staudenmayer, chairman, announced Saturday.

This measure contains no provision for any other than a sharply graduated license fee based upon weight. When the proposal gets to the floor a substitute amendment will be offered, reducing the fees based upon weight and establishing a gasoline tax of two cents a gallon, to raise $2,560,000 annually. County board chairmen meeting here assured that when they went on record unanimously as favoring the gas tax as the most equitable means of raising funds for highway construction.

Schedule of Fees

The revised weight license fee schedule collected in the new highway bill, favorable to the administration, follows:

Car weight in pounds	Fee
Less than 1600	$10.00
1600 to 1800	11.50
1800 to 2000	13.00
2000 to 2400	17.00
2400 to 2800	22.00
2800 to 3200	28.00
3200 to 3600	34.00
3600 to 4000	38.00
4000 to 4500	43.00
4500 to 5000	48.00
Over 5000	50.00

Motor truck fees under the committee bill are graduated sharply on the weight basis. Triple fees will be charged passenger carrying busses, with the truck weight charge as a basis.

Following is the schedule of truck charges based on gross weight in tons:

Less than 1½	$ 10.00
1½ to 2¾	15.00
2¾ to 3	20.00
3 to 4	30.00
4 to 5	45.00
5 to 6	65.00
6 to 7	85.00
7 to 8	105.00
8 to 9	125.00
9 to 10	145.00
10 to 11	165.00
11 to 12	185.00

Motor busses—triple the fees of motor trucks of the same gross weight.

Part-time Licenses

If the committee bill is enacted, automobile owners hereafter will have to pay full license fees up to July 1 each year and then from July 1 to September 1, they will pay 75 per cent of the full fees and after September 1, fifty per cent of the full charge.

Visiting cars from other states are to be given 10 days in Wisconsin without charge. If they stay longer a $1 fee will be charged up to 30 days and a full license fee required after that.

Garage fees remain as at present, with a raise in motorcycle licenses from $2 to $5 for the machine alone and $8 if equipped with a side car.

WORTHINGTON FOUND GUILTY OF USING THE MAILS TO DEFRAUD

Chicago Banker Tried for Operations in Connection With Defunct Concern

CHICAGO.—John W. Worthington, former private banker whose financial flights have several times been under scrutiny of state and federal authorities, Saturday was found guilty by a jury in federal court of using the mails in a scheme to defraud.

Worthington was head of the Mercantile and Security and Investment Company and was tried for dealings in the operation of the defunct concern.

After a trial in which it was alleged he was the head and dictator of the affairs of the company and that many persons lost savings and considerable sums entrusted to him, the jury was locked up last night and reached a sealed verdict which was opened today.

In the trial a former employee testified that when the concern ceased business, Worthington took possession of the books.

Worthington, sometimes called the "Wolf of La Salle Street" formerly operated the American Banking Association, a private bank which went into bankruptcy. He has operated investment and brokerage offices here and elsewhere and in connection with securities sought by police and private detectives has several times been the object of raids and charges.

SUN YAT SEN ON HIS WAY BACK TO HIS CAPITAL CITY

HONK KONG.—Sun Yat Sen, former president of South China, arrived here Saturday from Shanghai on his way to Canton, his capital, which recently was recaptured in his behalf. As a precautionary measure an extra force of police and detectives guarded the doctor, and not more than twenty Chinese were allowed to pass the cordon and go aboard the ship to receive Dr. Sun.

FRENCH HOLD ON RUHR CITIES IS DRAWN TIGHTER

Increase in Sabotage, Bombing and Shooting Reported Throughout Occupied Zone

OFFICIALS PUNISHED FOR VIOLATING FRENCH ORDERS

Germans Obstruct Traffic by Sinking Barges in Rhine Canal

ESSEN.—The French hold on Essen was tighter Saturday in consequence of the shooting of two soldiers Friday. Infantrymen occupied the police barracks throughout the night and members of the force were deprived of their weapons. The chief of police is under arrest.

Ober-Burgomaster Havenstein of Oberhausen, Vice Lord Mayor Schaefer of Essen and Herr Bussemann, director of the Essen electric light plant have been punished by court martial for violating French orders.

Officials Penalized

Havenstein, sentenced to three years' imprisonment on charge of cutting off the supplies of gas and electricity upon the arrival of the French in Oberhausen contended that he had carried out the instructions of his superiors.

Schaefer testified that it had been impossible for him to carry out technically the French orders which imposed upon him the task of furnishing motor transportation and fuel. He received a two year jail sentence and was fined ten million marks.

Busseman was fined five million marks on charge of interfering with supply of electricity in the Kaiserhof Hotel, the French headquarters.

Bombing in Duesseldorf

DUESSELDORF.—Bomb throwing and serious cases of sabotage occurred in Ruhr valley during the night. A bomb was thrown in a street in Essen near the Kaiserhof Hotel, the French engineers headquarters, where Chief Engineer Coste and thirty or forty other civil engineers are lodged. No injuries resulted.

The windows of the hotel were broken by the explosion. This hotel is guarded day and night by French soldiers but the bomb thrower escaped. It is thought possible the bomb was thrown from the roof of one of the neighboring buildings.

Sink Barges in Canal

Considerable additional difficulty in effecting transportation is being caused by the French by the act of the Germans, recently reported, in sinking two loaded barges in the channel of the Rhine-Herne canal, which is one of the main arteries of water communication in the Ruhr. It will be several days before the occupying forces are able to get the barges out of the way. Meanwhile the canal remains completely blocked.

Another strike has occurred among the miners of the Krupp pits at Bochum, 16,000 men going out. They struck because the mine officials were arrested by the French for refusing to obey orders and obstructing the work of the French Commission.

Workers Retaliate

ESSEN.—The employes of the Municipal Electric Works have decided to cut off Essen's supply of electricity as a result of the imposition of the fine of five million marks on Director Bussemann of the local plant.

CITY-WIDE LIQUOR CLEAN-UP ON TODAY IN U. S. CAPITAL

Second Series of Raids Conducted by Police and Dry Agents in Washington

WASHINGTON—Police and prohibition enforcement officers Saturday launched their second city-wide liquor clean-up since the beginning of February.

Armed with fifty warrants they began before noon a series of raids which reached into every section of the capital and which filled up rapidly all available detention space at several station houses.

As in the series of sixty raids conducted February 2, evidence was given the revenue agents and police by J. L. Asher, revenue agent from Kentucky. Asher travelled the rounds of the capital underworld this time in the guise of a wandering minstrel playing his way into the hearts of his victims on a violin.

GREEN BAY'S FIRE MEN BUCK DRIFTS TO SAVE VILLAGE

GREEN BAY, Wis.—The quick work of the Green Bay fire department, coupled with the shifting of a strong west wind to a southwesterly direction, is believed to have saved the entire village of Duck Creek, three miles west of here, from destruction by fire Friday night. Receiving a distress call, the local department plowed through snowdrifts in time to prevent the blaze, which had destroyed a hardware store and was spreading to adjoining structures, from causing additional loss. The loss to the hardware store was placed at approximately $8,000.

The Ground Hog Is Dead

WENT INTO COLD STORAGE LAST WEDNESDAY.

But really, is he any "deader" than those "Christians," so called, who moved to La Crosse three, or five, or ten years ago and allowed every thought of Christianity to die out of their life—no church attendance or support; no prayer or religious practice—dead to God and to hope (except when they want a funeral)?

WHY NOT ALLOW THE LENTEN SEASON TO RENEW YOUR TRUST IN GOD AND IN THE CHRIST WHO REVEALS HIM TO US—TOMORROW?

EPIDEMIC OF COLDS IS CAUSING ALARM AMONG SPARTA FOLK

88 Pupils Absent from High School Last Thursday; Drifts Impede Doctors

SPARTA, Wis.—There is an alarming amount of sickness about town. many are suffering from colds and the grippe. Many students are sick, there being 88 absent from the high school alone, on Thursday. The past few days, it has been difficult for the physicians to reach their patients in the country, because of the badly drifted conditions of the roads. The rural carriers are having hard work to make their routes, but are reaching more patrons, than the first days, after the storm.

Charles S. Smith, federal dry enforcement chief, formerly sheriff of Monroe county and a resident of Sparta, is making good in his new work. For the month of January, he reports 272 arrests. His report shows that federal prohibition agents participated in 206 raids in Wisconsin during January, and caused 273 arrests, obtained 153 convictions, and made 195 inspections. Dry law fines collected in the federal and state courts for the month, came to a total of $14,850.

L. M. Sterling, the owner of the Sparta greenhouse and nursery has sold half of his interest to H. J. Anderson, an experienced nurseryman, who came here from Oelwein, Iowa. The new partner will be ready for business the first of the month.

FELLOWSHIP OF PRAYER

SATURDAY

The Forgiveness of Sins

"Son, thy sins are forgiven." —Mark 2:5.

Read Mark 2:1-12.

"But to the mind of Jesus no loss which may come to the body compares with the loss which comes to the soul by breaking the law of God."

Meditation: Jesus never speculated about the philosophy of sin. He regarded it as the most terrible thing in the world, for sin separates a soul from God.

Hymn:

Jesus, lover of my soul, let me to thy bosom fly,
While the nearer waters roll,
While the tempest still is high:
Hide me, O my Saviour hide, till the storm of life is past;
Safe into the haven guide, O receive my soul at last.

Prayer: Lord, our God, the help of those that flee unto thee, cleanse us from our sins and from every thought displeasing to thy goodness, that with a pure heart and a clear soul with perfect love and calm hope, we may venture, confidently and fearlessly, to pray unto thee. Amen.

SHEPHERD DOG WINS IN FEUD WITH WOLF

ASHLAND, Wis.—A feud between a wolf and shepherd dog, which had its inception several months ago when the wolf harassed stock on the farm of Martin Skattebo, came to an end when the wolf dared to invade the farmer's yard.

Skattebo ran into the house to get a gun, but when he came out the dog stood over the dead body of the wolf.

A new oil lamp that gives an amazingly brilliant, soft, white light, even better than gas or electricity, has been tested by the U. S. Government and 35 leading universities and found to be superior to 10 ordinary oil lamps. It burns without odor, smoke or noise—no pumping up, is simple, clean, safe. Burns 94 percent air and 6 percent common kerosene (coal-oil).

Lake St., Chicago, Ill., is offering to send a lamp on 10 days' FREE trial, or even to give one FREE to the first user in each locality who will help him introduce it. Write him today for full particulars. Also ask him to explain how you can get the agency, and without experience or money make $250 to $500 per month.—Adv.

What Does France Want?

WE have predicted freely in this country that the French occupation of the Ruhr will fail. Similar predictions are as freely made in England and among the neutral nations of the continent which dread the collapse of Germany as a blow at their own safety. And failure will be the part of the French insofar as their object is collection of reparations, the pretext upon which troops were moved in. But is that the real object of France? And will the real object be attained, whatever it may be? There is a very good chance indeed that if France is not actually working for reparations, but for the destruction of her ancient enemy, that the occupation of the Ruhr may be eminently successful.

Economically, the Ruhr is two-thirds of Germany. Without its coal and iron and high productive development the rest of Germany is industrially crippled. Nationally and internationally it is already prostrated from the business standpoint, with the French in the Ruhr less than two months. If the French hold on long enough—and it may not need to be very long—nearly the only industry left alive in Germany will be agriculture, and there is not enough of that even to feed the people.

We have assumed from the beginning of the French maneuver that the French government would ultimately be forced to abandon its project because it would in the first place be fruitless of reparations, and in the second would cost too much. But other advantages than reparations may be taken into account by the French—the destruction of France's continental rival and the relative exaltation of France, for example. And as to costs, the French may consider that they are better off with Germany bankrupt even if they are only one jump ahead of bankruptcy themselves. Among beggars he who has a dollar is a plutocrat. France may succeed in impoverishing all Europe by her tactics and still believe she has secured an advantage.

Such is a cynic's way of sizing up the situation. It is not, it may be believed, a fair and accurate estimate. Americans, at least, believe that it is better to be prosperous in a prosperous community than to be the best off among paupers. But others may think differently. The horror of poverty and smash which seems a sufficient restraint to our way of thinking may be a mere incident to those of another way of thought. In talking and thinking about the French in the Ruhr we are likely to come to self-deceiving conclusions unless we contemplate the possibility that France would willingly wreck Europe if she could be reasonably certain of emerging on top of the debris. The fact of the situation seems to be that for a time at least that is exactly what may be expected from her present policy.

Sooner or later Europe would get back organization and strength sufficient to repair the damage, and in that day France, if she pursues her ruthless logic, to the point of smash, would face a terrible reckoning. But unless the powers are willing to come to grips with France now and assume the consequences, it is quite possible that the government at Paris can pull down the house and mount guard in triumph on the ruins.

A Lenten Editorial

In Him is Life

(By REV. M. R. PHILPOTT, West Ave. M. E. Church.)

HOW long do you want to live?

It is my opinion that there are a large number of Ponce de Leons. It is natural for mankind to desire to live; because of this physicians practice, drug stores and hospitals flourish. If our common interest is the longevity of life, we should turn to Christ for knowledge, as he is the author of life.

Rev. M. R. Philpott

Easter should not be considered as an ancient event, but as the continuing life. Easter finds its best expression in the resurrection story of Christ. Not alone in the buds and blossoms may we see the victory of life, but we see a greater victory revealed to us in the story of the Garden of Gethsemane, Calvary and the Resurrection. Here we find goodness eternally triumphs over villainy, non-resistance over aggression, love over hate, and life over death. We are assured that although evil may hold the reins of dominion and power for a season, dominion and power ultimately belong to right. It matters little how complete may be the temporary defeat of truth and right—discord shall not always abide.

Christ's parables seem like precious seed scattered by prodigal hands over the unfenced fields of humanity. He wrote no books, formulated no plans, instituted no social or religious machinery, founded no ecclesiastical system, mustered no armies. And yet, without literature, organization or armies he has become the central figure of all civilization. The power of Christ lies first in the fact that he can so infuse himself into every man's life, that surrenders to him as Lord, that it is impossible for any man to be his whole self without making Christ the master of his life. Second, that Christ is living, for who would worship a dead Christ—thus Easter completes our faith.

The body born of man is born young and grows old, soon returning to earth. But the spirit of man is born old and becomes more active, more alert, more progressive, or, in other words, grows young.

The longevity of man's life depends upon his relation with Christ.

It beats all how such good-looking complexions can come out of such sloppy looking vanity cases.

Bob's Banner Day

By JANE OSBORN

Bob's last name was Bennett and Mary was surnamed Benson—facts which accounted for the juxtaposition of their seats in Sociology 32 at the State University. Had it not been for the fact that if either sat anywhere but in the seat assigned, he or she would be counted absent when Professor Munson's assistant inarked up the rollbook, they would certainly not have been such near neighbors in the classroom. As a rule co-eds didn't concern Bob Bennett in the least, but there was something about the arch tilt of Mary's pretty chin, the slight dilation of her little nostrils bespeaking perfect self-satisfaction, that seemed to irritate Bob immensely.

"If she's as proud as all that she oughtn't to have come to State University," he told himself, and the hours when Mary sat beside him in sociology class were only occasions when Bob felt ashamed of his rather threadbare suit and shabby shoes. At other times he was pleased to think that even with hard scraping he could stick out his four years at all. And now he had begun his senior year, he owed nothing and he had paid all his expenses as he went along by dint of a variety of toilsome jobs pursued during hours after classes.

"I know he's conceited," reflected Mary as she took her seat beside Bob Bennett. "Those big tall blondes always are. If he feels such scorn for girl students he shouldn't have come to a co-educational university." And Mary would tuck her neatly blacked oxfords under her chair to hide the worn spots on the toes.

On one occasion Professor Munson essayed to get better acquainted with his students in Sociology 32 by inviting them to tea in one of the social rooms of the university. Mary and Bob first assured themselves they would not attend but both ended by appearing at the hour appointed.

"I am sure you know Miss Bennett, Mr. Benson," snirked the embarrassed assistant. "That is Mr. Bennett, Miss Benson. You sit next each other, and I have such a time remembering which name belongs to which."

Bob signified that he did not know Miss Benson, and Miss Benson smiled with arch coldness and they separated as soon as the assistant had moved on to introduce other students.

After that Mary and Bob had to exchange greetings when they met in the classroom. Once when Bob noticed that Mary's pen had gone dry in the middle of a lecture he gave her his own, and used a pencil instead to take his own notes. Mary used it gingerly and returned it with formal thanks afterward, and Bob told himself he regretted his burst of considerateness. However he never used the pen thereafter without being reminded of the pretty turn of the chin and the delicate contour of the nose of Mary Benson.

He had to admit to himself that he thought her very pretty. She was the kind of a girl a fellow would be proud to take to dances and things—that is, a fellow who didn't have to work his way through college and wear shabby clothes.

So Bob reflected as he started out one afternoon for a nearby industrial community bearing a very heavy canvas case containing a variety of brushes. For Bob Bennett had secured the local agency for a brand of popular brushes and he had determined to canvas outlying towns rather than the college community itself. If he managed by dint of hard work and much persuasion to sell ten brushes in the course of an afternoon, with promise of two or three dollars' commission later on he felt that he had done well.

On this particular afternoon success greeted him at the outset. He showed all his brushes, leaving the most expensive—a long-handled window brush—till last. He had never received a single order for this. Before he had had a chance to recount its merits the housewife he was interviewing ordered one.

"We'll have to be washing windows again in a week or two," she said, "and goodness knows it's dangerous enough climbing on a ladder outside or trying to sit on the window sill."

At the very next house his experience was similar. "Land sakes, I'm glad you came," said this housewife when she saw the window brush. "And to think it might have been me—the mother of four children and right in the middle of grape preserves."

Bob took the order for the brush, but asked for no explanation for the enigmatical side remark.

"Say," said a third housewife later on as she gave an order for the long-handled window brush, you happened along just in time. Too bad about that young girl though I don't know as she hurt herself seriously. She's so light she probably didn't land hard, but it's no fun having a ladder cave in under you now it it?"

Gradually as Bob acquired fifteen orders for long-handled window brushes, he pieced out the fact that a young housework cleaning windows had fallen from a ladder earlier that afternoon. She had sprained her wrist and bruised her face. She had been taken to the doctor's office because there was no hospital and was waiting there until friends from her home might arrive to help her away.

Bob felt gleeful over his stroke of good luck, for he raked off fifty cents commission on each of these long-handled brushes; but the more he reflected the more sympathy he felt for the poor working girl whose misfortune had spelled his good luck. It ended by his going over to the doctor's office to make inquiries for her.

The doctor's wife at the door told him that she was still waiting for a friend to come for her. "She's not hurt much, but oughtn't to take the trolley ride alone. She's a student from the college—working her way—poor thing."

Bob said that he was going back to the college town and would be glad to escort her. The doctor's wife seemed pleased, and opened the door to the doctor's study where the poor little bruised window washer was sitting upright on a haircloth sofa, pale, but composed. Her strained wrist had been neatly bandaged, and a patch on the side of her cheek with several red scratches, told the tale of her mishap.

Bob Bennett didn't realize for the first minute—in fact, not until the girl spoke his name, "Mr. Bennett," she said, "You are very good to offer to help me home. I'm your next door neighbor in sociology 32." There was nothing arch or haughty now about the tilt of her chin, and the pretty nostrils showed no self-satisfied dilation.

Bob tried to insist on ordering a car from a nearby garage to make the trip more comfortable, but Mary stoutly refused to consent.

"If you'll just help me in and out of the trolley car I won't mind the trip at all," she said, and Bob would willingly have carried her all the way home on foot as a token of his gratitude for the grateful smile she bestowed on him.

On the way home he told her of his own struggles to get through college without having to go in debt, and Mary listened intently, with warm admiration lighting up her pale face.

"And I'd always imagined you were fearfully proud. I thought you had everything," she said. But they did not go on with the discussion, for just then a jolt of the car reminded Mary very sharply of the injury to her poor little ankle. She swayed ever so slightly in her seat and Bob's strong arm found excuse to make its way protectingly around her shoulders.

It was dusk when they returned to the college town but several students stopped and stared as they saw the stalwart Bob Bennett carrying Mary Benson in his arms the two blocks from the trolley station to the girls' dormitory. They recalled this incident several months later when the engagement of Mary Benson and Bob Bennett was included in a list of college romances of the year. But Mary and Bob kept their little secret and Professor Munson and his assistant took full credit for having made the the match.

WET LEADER TO FIGHT REPEAL OF SEVERSON DRY ACT

MADISON, Wis.—Assemblyman Herman Sachtjen, stated as "wet" in the lower house, is opposed to any suggestion of the repeal of the state Severson prohibition law, he said Saturday. The Severson law is needed to curb the moonshine business, in his opinion.

Assemblyman Sachtjen has a bill now before the legislature that would permit prohibition officers from searching private homes unless they had definite knowledge that liquor was being made there for sale purposes.

THE GRIP EPIDEMIC

How To Dodge It and What To Do If You Already Have It

If you are over-tired, weak or run-down, you catch cold easily.
If you have a cold, it is easy for grip to take hold.
If you have the grip, it may easily lead to pneumonia, and that often ends fatally.

So first of all do not allow yourself to get run-down or weakened. Build up new strength by taking Father John's Medicine, which gives health resistance to overcome disease.

But if you have a cold, do not neglect it. Begin taking Father John's Medicine right away. It is the logical, safe way to treat a cold and has proven its value by more than 67 years' success.

A mild attack of grip will usually yield to Father John's Medicine, but the getting-well stage is the danger point. It is then that the body, weakened by the grip germs, is open to attack by many other lurking disease perils. These poisons must be driven from the system and Father John's Medicine is most effective by means of its laxative effect and because of its strength-giving, health-building, tissue-forming elements.

Remember, Father John's Medicine is a pure, wholesome food. Guaranteed absolutely free from opium, morphine, heroin, codeine or any other dangerous drugs or alcohol. Get the large size—it contains more than twice the small size.

DISTRICT ATTORNEYS OF STATE TO MEET EARLY NEXT MONTH

Conference on Problems of Prosecutors to be Held at Madison

MADISON, Wis.—By The Associated Press.—District attorneys from the seventy-one Wisconsin counties will meet here March 6 and 7 for their third annual convention to consider problems affecting their offices and to become acquainted with the state legal department with which they deal.

W. W. Gilman, assistant attorney general, chairman of the executive committee of the District Attorneys' association, sent out a call today to all the counties urging that their legal representatives be present at the meeting.

Attorney General Herman L. Ekern will address the meeting on March 6, following the opening talk by T. G. Lewis, district attorney for Dane county and president of the association.

"Some of the problems of the district attorney," will be presented by District Attorney J. S. Earll of Prairie du Chien. Discussion will follow this talk led by R. E. Kennedy, district attorney at Superior.

F. D. Bump, assistant attorney general, speaks on "Municipal Loans" on March 6. That evening Judge C. A. Fowler, Fond du Lac, will speak on "The District Attorney and the Court."

Assistant Attorney General J. E. Messerschmidt will explain "The Writ of Coram Nobis," recently established in Wisconsin by a supreme court decision.

On Wednesday C. E. O'Connor, district attorney at Eagle River, is to talk on "The District Attorney and the County Board." The anti-discrimination statute is to be explained by District Attorney J. J. Boyle of Darlington. Mr. Gilman will discuss "Extradition," in the afternoon.

That evening A. J. Vinje, chief justice of the Wisconsin supreme court, will address the district attorneys.

SOFT DRINK PARLOR NOT OPEN WHEN DOORS ARE LOCKED

A soft drink establishment is closed, within the meaning of the city ordinance regulating such establishments, if the doors are locked and there is no evidence to show that drinks have been sold, Judge J. J. Fitzpatrick ruled in municipal court in dismissing a complaint against Sam Wieczorek, proprietor of a soft drink saloon at 150 High Forest street, Winona.

Wieczorek was charged with violating the ordinance by keeping his place open after midnight Monday.

He admitted that he and four other men were in the place when it was raided after midnight by police, but denied that the saloon was open for business. He asserted that the doors had been locked at approximately ten minutes to twelve, that there had been no drinks sold after that time, and that he and three of the men were engaged in playing cribbage at a table when police arrived. The fifth man was watching the game, he said.

FARM HOME NEAR HOMER DESTROYED

WINONA, Minn.—Fire totally destroyed the home and all its contents on the old Peter Sampson farm about two miles southeast of Homer yesterday, with an estimated loss of $4,000.

A heavy wind fanned the flames, which leveled the building, a two story frame structure, and a summer kitchen and well house, in less than half an hour. Early efforts of Chester Strauss, occupant of the farm, to check the blaze when it was discovered in the attic, proved futile. When neighbors arrived, the entire structure was in flames. An overheated chimney was believed to have started the fire.

The loss on the household goods is not covered by insurance, Mr. Strauss said. Whether the building was insured could not be learned. The farm is owned by Lester Todd.

Members of the Strauss family, eight children and Mr. and Mrs. Strauss, have been taken into the homes of neighboring farmers.

"KENTUCKY DERBY"

Kentucky, home of mint julep aristocracy, beautiful women, thoroughbred horses and magnificent scenery.

The Pacific ocean, romantic, tyrannic and historic, grave of hopes and boon to idle dreams.

These two were the "locations" chosen in filming "The Kentucky Derby," which will be shown at the Rivoli theater on Sunday.

The story of "The Kentucky Derby" is based on "The Suburban," a stage play which thousands remember today, though it was presented twenty years ago for the first time.

"THE CONCERT"

A splendid picturization of "The Concert," the play in which Leo Dirichstein starred for several seasons with such success, is booked to be shown at the Majestic theater for Sunday.

"The Concert" is a keen study of human nature and contains a fund of sparkling humor—its situations are genuinely laughable. It is the story of a middle-aged, temperamental musical genius and an impressionable young wife—not his own—and their adventure as "soul mates." The musician's sensible spouse and the husband of her "rival" join hands to teach the erring pair the error of their ways by imitating them. The result is easily foreseen. The musician begs forgiveness of his wife and the other woman rushes into her own husband's arms, permanently cured of hero-worship.

"BUTTERFLY KIDDIES"

The Majestic announces an engagement of the Butterfly Kiddies of Melody Lane, America's cleverest juvenile entertainers. Twelve bright children who range from five to fourteen years give forty five minutes of entertainment unsurpassed by any.

Their act includes singing, dancing and novelties. You will be delighted with seven-year-old Sunshine Shooks and six-year-old baby Rita when they sing their popular numbers.

Eighteen people are necessary to carry and put on this unusual entertainment; the twelve children, three maids, manager, musical director and tutor. They have a regular school on the stage every morning at 11 o'clock and carry their own teacher with them.

VILLAGE FOLLIES OPENS TODAY FOR TWO DAYS' STAY

The theatric child of New York's Bohemian colony, the Greenwich Village Follies, comes to the La Crosse Theatre tonight and Sunday. This is the second annual revue of New York's Quartier Latin, devised by John Murray Anderson, generally credited with being the most progressive and revolutionary unit in the host of producers of girl and music shows. It is not to be confused with the first of these fleet annuals well remembered for the excellent impression it left after its visit here last season. The current "Follies" is new from beginning to end.

John Murray Anderson, its creator, has an exceptional sense of stage artistry, a genuine eye for setting, lighting and coloring, and he gives to his productions an imaginative quality that sets them quite above and beyond contemporary spectacles.

In striving for artistry, Anderson does not fail to amuse. No phase of spectacle or musical comedy has been neglected in the "Follies." Comics, dancers and singers there are in abundance. Much of the comedy is subtle satire. Much of it is broad burlesque. The most discussed incident in the Greenwich Village Follies comes with the introduction of the Benda Masks. These artistically designed false faces are regarded as a very noteworthy contribution to the contemporary stage. Twenty famous artists' models, draped in the superlatives of the modiste, form the frame for the antic and comic diversions of the leading personalities, making in all an ensemble of over fifty entertainers.

GREEN BAY PIONEER DIES AT AGE OF NINETY-SEVEN

GREEN BAY, Wis.—Mrs. Mary "Gramma" Shields, 97-year-old pioneer, died at her home here Friday morning. Up to recently Mrs. Shields' health was in excellent condition considering her age. Burial will be held at Appleton today from the home of her daughter, Mrs. William Arndt.

PREDICTS VICTORY FOR DEMOCRATS IN STATE ELECTION

MADISON, Wis.—Assemblyman Richard Kamke, lone democrat of the Wisconsin legislature, said Saturday that he foresaw a Wisconsin democratic landslide at the next election. He said that his opinion on this point was strengthened by a number of bills which provide more state commissions.

"Right now as I see it the state has two big problems—prohibition and the tax question," he said.

New York has an average of one fire every 21 minutes, day and night.

RED AND BLACK READY TO BATTLE GREATEST FOE IN LAST HOME GAME SATURDAY

Sporting Circles Buzzing With Prophesies and Opinions Regarding Outcome of Season's Classic With Madison Central

SPORTING circles are buzzing today with prophesies, opinions, and arguments on the biggest basketball game of the season which will be staged at the Hixon gym Saturday night between La Crosse high and Madison Central. The last minute change in the schedule has moved the most important tilt of the year from March 9 to Saturday night. This is by far the hardest game of the schedule as Madison high has always been the keenest and toughest rival for the local school. Coach Keegan feels confident that his team will loom up stronger than ever before at the state tournament this year if they succeed in defeating Madison Central which is considered one of the very strongest teams in the state.

Use Meanwell Play

Madison Central uses the Coach Meanwell tactics and with the brilliant performers that constitute the team, that school has cleaned up on some of the strongest aggregations in the state already. They have developed a powerful defensive which has held all of their opponents to a comparatively low count. Their offensive, although not as outstanding as their guarding system, has piled up a large number of scores and made many an opponent weep. Coach Johnson of Madison Central has some of the best material in years and with practically two competent men to every position, he has developed varying combinations of equal merit. Parker has been playing regular center for Madison but will probably be replaced by the coach's latest find, Pahlmeyer. Dunn and Piel, two other reinforcements of the team, have also shown up exceptionally well in recent games.

Team in Condition

The local team is ready to give everything it has to this battle, for Captain Weigent and his gang know that they will have to fight as they have never fought before to win. Madison has in the last few years particularly, been a fierce rival for the Red and Black. They are sure to give their best tonight.

Season tickets will admit to this last and biggest home game of the season. Students will occupy the south bleachers and outside patrons the north bleachers. The largest crowd ever in the high school gym is expected. The probable lineups for tonight will be:

La Crosse		Madison
Harget	R. F.	Tripolin
Koshab	L. F.	Jones
Wheaton	C.	Parker
Weigent	R. G.	O'Neil
Saltz	L. G.	Radcliffe

HYDROPLANE CAPABLE OF TRAVELING 100 MILES PER HOUR PLAN OF "GAR" WOOD

DETROIT.—A hydroplane capable of a speed of from 90 to 100 miles an hour—faster than any watercraft ever has traveled—is contemplated by "Gar" Wood, holder of virtually all the world's speedboat records, if he is called upon to defend the British International (Harmsworth) trophy this year.

This became known coincident with announcement that a challenging for the "B. I. T." was in prospect. France, it is understood, contemplates another effort to lift the famous bronze trophy, emblematic of the world's speedboat championship. The challenge, however, is to come from the Federation Francaise Club of France. The latter being the recognized body of France, approval of representatives of the estate of the late Lord Northcliffe, donor of the trophy and the Royal Motor Yacht club must be obtained before the contest can be arranged.

Both the Motor Boat Club of America, under whose auspices the race would be held, and Commodore Wood, have agreed to the challenge.

Should the Harmsworth race be revived this year, it will mark the second time this powerboat classic has been run in American water. Should the challenge materialize the race will be run on August 31 and September 1, and as many succeeding days as may be necessary. Concurrently the gold cup trophy race and a 150-mile race for displacement boats of not more than 1,350 cubic inches displacement will be held.

In announcing their ambition for a hydroplane capable of from 90 to 100 miles an hour, Gar Wood and Chris Smith, the boat builder, declared their conviction that this speed was entirely possible. They had learned from the development of Miss America I., and Miss America II., they said, that with slight alterations a hydroplane could be constructed that could safely be equipped with power sufficient to send it over the water at a speed considerably in excess of that already attained.

It was with Miss America II., that Wood successfully defended the Harmsworth two years ago and later established his world's record of 80.-567 miles an hour.

Williams Certain to Break Record As Wisconsin All-Round Athlete

When the final whistle blew in the basketball game between Wisconsin and Indiana at Bloomington on Jan. 8, Rollie Williams, star athlete of Wisconsin, had tied the record of all time for Wisconsin's greatest all-round athlete. The record has just been made public.

The Indiana game gave Williams his eighth varsity letter, a feat unequaled since Guy Sundt in 1922 broke the record of Eber Simpson. Simpson made his record with seven varsity letters in 1918.

In addition, Williams won his letters when athletic competition was at its height in Wisconsin. It is no detraction from Sundt to point out that he broke the Simpson record during the period which was marked by S. A. T. C. year when athletics were at their low ebb in all colleges over the country.

But Williams' honor is expected to be the greater before the end of the school year. He is slated for a left-field berth on the varsity baseball team, which would give him his ninth letter.

This would break all Wisconsin records and make Rollie the greatest all-round athlete, officially, the Cardinal has ever produced.

Williams is the ideal type of college athlete. There has never been any question as to his scholarship, as he has always stood high in class and is of a somewhat studious type. He is personally popular outside of that popularity which comes as a bit of glamor to the varsity athlete.

Got Early Start

One of the greatest honors Williams can claim is the fact that as early as his sophomore year he was mentioned by Walter Camp as coming all American material.

His first year in basketball he was a universal choice as all-Western guard. He has been placed on most all-Conference and many all-Western football teams.

In baseball, he is a flashy fielder and a fair hitter. His speed allowed him to cover lots of ground. He was a dangerous man on the bases, and although there are more consistent hitters in the conference, he has always been a dangerous man in a pinch.

GREEN BAY TEAM TO EIGHTH PLACE ONE DAY REMAINS

TOURNAMENT TO TERMINATE WITH GAMES SATURDAY NIGHT

Janesville Pledges 600 Teams for Tourney Next Year

GREEN BAY, Wis.—With but one more day to go the Delairs Restaurant, Green Bay, romped off with eighth place in the five-man event with a count of 2902. After getting away to a poor start the local pin stars scored one game over the millenary mark giving them the best standing of any Green Bay squad so far in the tourney.

With several local booster squads in action Saturday night the tournament, which has been pronounced one of the most successful of any state event of its kind staged in Wisconsin, will terminate. Green Bay's record breaking entry—939 five-man teams—has set a record in state bowling circles.

Janesville has been selected for next year's tournament, having pledged 600 five-man squads.

KEELER'S QUINTET SHOWS NO SIGNS OF BEING CRIPPLED

Hibbing Aggregation Proves no Match for Maroon and Gray Machine; Score 42-16

JOREGESON, POSCOVER AND GUNDERSON TURN IN SCORES

Every Man in Suit Given Chance in Game

SHOWING no semblance of being crippled by the loss of two regulars, Coach Keeler's cagers buried Hibbing Junior College by a score of 42 to 16 in a one-sided game Friday night at Normal gym. Hibbing proved no match for the Maroon and Gray scoring machine which started the slaughter at the beginning of the half and continued throughout until they became tired of ringing up the points.

All Get Chance

Coach Keeler used every man in a suit and each one performed brilliantly, at the same time the teamwork and passing and basket shooting was par excellent. For La Crosse the scoring was divided among Joregeson, Pascover, and Gunderson, each man getting five baskets most of these coming the first half. Joregeson displayed clever team-work as well as shooting. Hawkins stepped up and slipped in three field goals, but had an off night from the foul line only being able to put in three out of nine chances. He played his usual fast game at running guard and worked well with Klandrud in keeping the opponent's score low. Klandrud played wonderful ball at standing guard, intercepting pass after pass and getting the ball started on the offensive from the back board, besides showing he had an eye for the hoop by dropping one in from the center. Quin, Reynolds, Huseth and Conners all had the chance and performed in good style.

Tavaggia Hibbing Star

For Hibbing, Tavaggia, at center, was the only man to find the hoop, and he had a mean eye, dropping in six, most of them from the center. Dommell at running guard played clever ball, but received little assistance from his team-mates, who appeared dazzled by the fast passing game of the Maroon and Gray team.

A week of intensive work on the part of Coach Keeler has made wonderful improvement since the team's last game at Milwaukee and at the rate they were going Friday night, it is hard telling what team in the state could stop them. For the last three weeks the squad seemed to be riding a slump but Friday's game certainly has freshened them up.

Shields Back Next Week

With Joe Shields in the line-up next week Coach Keeler will be able to present a fast moving out-fit which bodes trouble for both Milwaukee and Eau Claire normals, the two remaining conference games.

GLENNA DEFEATS DOROTHY KLOTZ IN GOLF MATCH FRIDAY

Match is Witnessed by Largest Gallery on Palm Beach Links

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla.—By the Associated Press.—Witnessed by what was said to be the largest gallery that ever followed a golf match on the Palm Beach club links and under weather conditions that were ideal, Miss Glenna Collett of Providence, R. I. national women's golf champion, had no difficulty here Friday in winning the midwinter golf tournament from Miss Dorothy Klotz of Chicago, 8 up and 7 to go—three holes being halved.

Perfect driving and the spectacular approaches of the champion won round after round of applause.

Miss Klotz displayed some of the long driving power which was a feature of her preliminary matches. Twice she drove into bad traps, to get out of one of which required three strokes for recovery and many of her shots were topped, while the golfing of Miss Collett was flawless.

Wins State Title

Miss Collett in winning Friday's match becomes 1923 champion of Florida. The national title she holds was not at stake. She leaves here next week for Belleair, Fla., where she will take part in the women's tournament beginning there March 5.

The 36 hole medal play between Miss Collett and Miss Edith Bethell of Chicago will not be played. Miss Bethell continued ill and Friday the champion graciously defaulted the tie to Miss Bethell.

Mrs. Dobyn Wins

In the second flight of Friday's tournament Mrs. George Dobyn of Boston won from Mrs. Northwood of Toronto, 3 and 2.

GRAND MEADOW MAN DIES

GRAND MEADOW, Minn.—Thomas Flaherty, an old resident of this section, died at his home here. He is believed to have relatives in St. Paul, but their address is unknown to F. T. Elliott, cashier of the First National bank here, who has been handling Mr. Flaherty's business. He leaves an estate of about $5,000, which will go to his natural heirs, Mr. Elliot says.

OPPOSE STREET CARNIVALS

RIPON, Wis.—Vigorous objection to street carnivals here is voiced in petitions filed with the city council.

FOUL FLIES EASY FOR SEVEREID

Hank Severeid, star catcher of the St. Louis Browns, holds two unusual records. One relates to catching foul flies, the other to throwing out base runners.

Foul flies are the bane of every catcher. Weakness in going after fouls is a fault of a majority of big league receivers.

The fact that the catcher must rear off his mask, make a blind start, since he doesn't exactly know the direction of the ball, and in addition is hampered by heavy shin guards and protector, adds to his troubles.

During his entire major league career Severeid has missed only one foul ball. That is a most remarkable and unusual performance.

His record of throwing out 41 men out of 42 who tried to steal on him in consecutive games is equally out of the ordinary.

SPORT BRIEFS

NEW YORK—Jess Willard, former world's heavyweight boxing champion, signed a contract for a 24-day vaudeville engagement and will tour through the middle west before meeting Floyd Johnson of Iowa in a 15 round bout in New York May 12.

PARIS—Eugene Criqui, European featherweight champion, will sail for New York March 10 for his bout with Johnny Kilbane Memorial Day.

MILWAUKEE—Cleveland defeated Milwaukee 2 to 0 in a United States Amateur Hockey League game.

SISLER FAILS TO HIT SAFELY IN ONLY 17 GAMES

CHICAGO.—George Sisler last year broke two records held by Ty Cobb.

In addition, Sisler led the American league in batting, and was voted the most valuable player in the American league.

All of which makes the year 1922 stand out as the big season in the career of the Browns' star.

Sisler hit safely in 41 consecutive games. That feat shattered Cobb's record of 40 straight, made in 1911.

In 1911 Cobb batted .420 according to the averages. To be exact, his mark for the season was .4196. Last season Sisler swatted .4197, giving Sisler the shade by the fraction of a point.

In making his 1922 average, Sisler had only 17 hitless games. In 53 games he made one hit, in 35 he had two, in 25 he had three, while in 12 games he made four hits. Some swatting!

The Cleveland pitchers were easiest for Sisler. Against the Indians, Sisler had a batting average of .495.

BUSINESS MEASURES UP FOR HEARING BY BADGER LEGISLATORS

Huber Bill for Unemployment and Two Big Tax Bills Scheduled for Week

KU KLUX KLAN BILLS TO COME UP FOR CONSIDERATION

Busy Week is Planned by Committees of Legislature

MADISON, Wis.—More people interested in the work of the legislature will come to Madison next week, than at any week of the legislature so far. It will be "business men's" week starting on Tuesday.

Hearings on three big business bills will be staged in the assembly chamber. These are:

Tuesday, February 20, hearing on the Huber bill granting unemployment insurance.

Wednesday, February 21 hearings on the Dahl and Severson bills to shift $8,500,000 burden of real estate taxes on the incomes of the state.

The principal argument for the Ruhr unemployment insurance bill will be made by Prof. John R. Commons of the University of Wisconsin. He has spent months in gathering data on the subject. Representatives of the Manufacturers' association will oppose the bill. The principal argument in opposition will be made by Frank Clausen, Horicon.

There is one principal difference between the Dahl and the Severson tax bills. The Dahl bill repeals the personal property offset to the state income tax law. The Severson bill does not. Both bills provide for the raising of $6,500,000 in income taxes annually for the support of the university, normals and common schools of the state. Both make direct appropriations to the educational institutions and both bills provide for the repeal of all mill taxes. The Dahl bill provides for the repeal of the secrecy clause to the state income tax law. Senator Severson would have this proposition considered in a separate measure. Both bills make exemptions for the members of the family, the exemptions in the Severson bill being higher than under the Dahl bill for a married man and his wife. Under the Severson bill the first $2,000 of net income is exempt.

Oliver Bill Slated for Death

On Wednesday the house judiciary committee will give a hearing to the Oliver bill to repeal the state civil service law. There seems to be no sentiment for the measure and the indications are that the measure will be reported for death. On the same day the committee will give a hearing to the Elser bill providing for the creation of the office of public defender. In California such a system is in use. The Kiesner proposal for a constitutional convention comes up the same day, but there is no hope of passage since the senate has killed such a resolution by a large vote.

Assemblyman Duncan's memorial to congress to prohibit a presidential candidate from receiving financial aid from a foreign government or representative will be heard by the house elections committee on Tuesday. On the same day the committee will hear the Timmerman bill prohibiting the publishing of paid editorials in newspapers. The Benfey bill for the licensing of physicians comes up in the senate public welfare committee Tuesday.

Klan Bills Up

The Ku Klux Klan will have its day in the legislature Tuesday, February 20, when two bills affecting its membership are up for consideration. One measure by Senator Titus and the other by Senator Gettelman, both require the klan along with other secret organizations, excepting labor unions and farmers' mutuals, to file lists of their membership with the secretary of state and county clerks. Heavy penalties for failure to comply with the provisions of the statutes are provided.

Hearing on the memorial to congress of Senator O. H. Johnson, calling for action to make possible a Great Lakes to the St. Lawrence waterway, will be held by the senate state affairs committee on February 21. This committee on the same day hears the Teasdale bill to prohibit minors under 16 years of age from attending motion pictures unless the picture shown has been censored by the national board of review or a local board of censorship.

The bill of Assemblyman Koch, requiring that pedestrians walking on highways keep to the left of the road, will be heard by the joint committee on highways February 21. The committee at that time will also hear the Gaffey bill requiring that all drivers of motor vehicles be licensed.

A continued hearing on the Cashman bill prohibiting use of histories which defame revolutionary war heroes, will be held on Tuesday before the senate committee on education and public welfare.

Hearing on the Freehoff bill to reapportion taxes received from terminal grain elevators is up for February 20 before the assembly taxation committee.

SEATTLE, Wash.—All members of the crew of the wrecked steamer Tuscan Prince were aboard the coast guard cutter Snohomish at nine o'clock Saturday morning, said a wireless dispatch from the Snohomish received here. Lieutenant H. G. Hemingway, commanding the cutter, said the vessel would leave for Port Angeles, Washington, shortly.

PRAIRIE DU CHIEN MAN GETS REVENUE PLACE WITH U. S.

MADISON, Wis. — Washington advices are to the effect that Alvin B. Peterson, of Prairie du Chien, has been appointed a special solicitor for the internal revenue department. His headquarters will be in Washington and he will serve as a trial lawyer in various parts of the United States. For the past five years Mr. Peterson has been specializing in internal revenue cases.

"I am not at liberty to discuss the matter," was Mr. Peterson's answer when called over long distance telephone at Prairie du Chien today.

Nevertheless, Washington information is to the effect that the appointment has been made and passed upon, and will be officially announced within a few days.

Mr. Peterson was manager of the senatorial campaign of Senator Irvine L. Lenroot two years ago, and for the following two years served as chairman of the republican state central committee of Wisconsin.

STATE FEDERATION ANNOUNCES BILLS FAVORED BY LABOR

Legislation Approved by Organization at Meeting at Madison

MADISON, Wis.—That there can be no dispute as to what bills are favored by the laboring interests of the state, a list of the approved measures has been announced by the State Federation of Labor, which held its meeting here this week.

Among the railroad employe bills approved are: limiting the length of a train to one-half mile; requiring a vestibuled cab on engines; a full crew bill, which requires that engines going over main lines have an engineer, fireman and conductor.

The organization has endorsed the bill to bring employes of hotels under the state industrial commission; a bill for the licensing of painters, electricians and steamfitters; a measure repealing all laws relating to peaceful picketing and a bill for the distribution of milk by municipalities.

Many of these measures have been offered at previous sessions of the legislature and have been defeated by close votes. There will be a record vote taken of every labor bill that comes up for action before the legislature, according to the announcement of convention officials.

Full endorsement is given to the Quick bill for the regulation of private detective agencies. Another bill which is strongly urged by the laboring interests is a measure which requires a jury trial in all labor injunction cases.

An effort is being made to reduce the hours of women in shops and factories at this session. The bill endorsed by labor provides for a 44 hour week and not to exceed eight hours in a single day. The present law allows a ten-hour day, but not exceeding 55 hours a week.

Unanimous support is given to the Severson bill for the repeal of the secrecy clause to the state income tax law. The organization recommends that all printing be done in shops where the eight-hour day is the rule. It is understood that a letter was received from the Homestead company of Des Moines, Ia., where a large part of the printing is now done, declaring that the shop in which their printing is done is unionized and an eight-hour day is in force. There are a number of other plants in the state, where state printing is done, and this bill is aimed to place them in conformity.

General approval was given to the Warden bill providing that a five-sixth jury can bring in a verdict in civil cases. This bill has already passed the house and is now pending in the senate. At the last election a constitutional amendment was adopted making the Warden bill possible.

The organization favors the measure which requires the removal of all material before painting, where there has been an infectious or contagious disease. The Huber bill, which provides for unemployment insurance, is also approved by the organization. The Huber bill is the subject of a public hearing in the assembly on Tuesday.

HIGHWAYS STILL BLOCKADED WITH SNOW NEAR HERE

Nearly all Roads Leading from City are Impassable Due to the Recent Storm

J. F. MASHEK, L. W. ONDERDONK HAVE A THRILLING TRIP MONDAY

Roads Being Cleared; Hope to Open them by First of Week

LA CROSSE is still cut off from most of the rest of the world as far as highway communication is concerned, several days after the cessation of the storm and blizzard. Nearly all of the roads out of the city are still blockaded with snow, though crews of men are hard at work every day trying to break paths through.

The passenger bus running between La Crosse and Galesville has not made a trip since the storm. It was intended to try Saturday morning, but the idea was given up. The first trip will be made on Monday. It was reported at the La Crosse hotel, bus headquarters, that the Caledonia bus had not been seen since the beginning of the storm. These two bus lines are the only two which have been in operation recently.

The freight truck service which has been in operation between La Crosse and the surrounding small towns is also badly demoralized. The only truck which has been able to make a trip so far is the one running between this city and Holmen.

Railroad service is rapidly getting back to normal, though trains on the Burlington and Milwaukee roads coming from the coast are often 6 to 12 hours late. Service from the east is practically normal. Telephone and telegraph companies report little or no trouble with poles or wires in this vicinity due to the storm.

Thrilling Experience

Joseph F. Mashek, local garage man, and L. W. Onderdonk, of the Paige Wisconsin company of Milwaukee, recount a thrilling story of their trip to Viroqua and back during the worst of the storm last Monday. The two men, in a touring car with side curtains in place, left here Monday afternoon about 1:30, when the blizzard was at its worst in this section. The trip to Viroqua was made through the blinding storm in about two hours, little difficulty being encountered except from the wind and snow. About two miles out of Viroqua, they ran into a drift and had to shovel themselves out. Against the advice of friends in Viroqua, they left on the return trip at a quarter to six Monday evening.

Their first stop was at the same spot two miles out where they had been stuck earlier in the day. They shoveled themselves out, and started on their way. After that it was a continual battle against the drifts, with stops about every quarter of a mile. They had to shovel the car out every time it stopped, and the wind and snow were so bad that they couldn't see the road ahead most of the time. They were lost at one time, and strayed seven miles off their road.

At one place, said Mr. Mashek, they were stuck and Mr. Onderdonk was standing in the road when Mashek started the car. Thinking the other man would follow, Mr. Mashek kept the car going, traveling through a field and over a hill to avoid a drift in the road. When he again struck the road about a quarter of a mile further on, his companion was nowhere to be seen. He found a man stalled in the road with a Ford, and the two went back and found Mr. Onderdonk where he had been left in the road. The wind had taken his breath away, and it was fifteen minutes or more before they could again proceed.

They pulled into the city at 8:45, three hours after leaving Viroqua, but they wouldn't make the trip again, they say. Incidentally, they won a little wager from their Viroqua friends. They are the only ones who have been known to get through so far since the beginning of the storm.

Erwin Mueller, driving a car through from Milwaukee, was fortunate enough to get into the city about an hour before the storm broke.

Clearing Roads

The work of clearing up the roads is being pushed, but because of the extreme lightness of the snow, the wind which comes up during the night practically undoes everything that has been accomplished the day before. It is hoped, however, to have all trunk lines open for traffic early next week.

BRITISH DEBT PLAN RECEIVES O. K. OF SENATE

the claim that the United States in agreeing to fix the interest Great Britain will pay at 3 per cent for the first ten and 3½ per cent for the remaining 52 years had cancelled approximately $1,666,000,000 of the interest charges.

Senator Lenroot followed La Follette in defense of the legislation. He asked what would have been the position of the United States, had these loans to the allies not been made.

Loan Shortened War

"If we had not loaned this money to Great Britain," said Lenroot, "the war would have been prolonged and a great many more American lives than were lost would have been sacrificed. And every farmer, every laboring man in America was a beneficiary of these loans. Let us not forget that. Will those gentlemen who want to get the last dollar out of Great Britain also urge that we get the last dollar from the other allies and from Germany, for Germany also owes us many hundreds of millions; and will they insist that the obligations Germany assumed under the treaty of Versailles shall be carried out? Will they do these things?"

RADICAL "SPY" IS ARRESTED ON CHARGE OF CRIMINAL LIBEL

CHICAGO.—Albert Baitin, alias Balanow, confessed labor and radical spy, was arrested Saturday charged with criminal libel as a result of his sworn testimony in a deposition being taken by Frank P. Walsh, for use in the defense of 22 communists at St. Joseph, Mich., February 26.

Albert O. Myers, assistant general manager of the Burns Detective Agency, obtained the warrant. He charged Balanow with libel because of his testimony that Myers in 1920 ordered him to go to the office of the Thiel agency, a rival organization, and write a threatening letter to the postmaster of New York on a Thiel typewriter.

Balanow was indicted in connection with the mailing of this and other threatening letters, and is still awaiting trial in New York.

PRIVATE MARSHALL IS SENT TO JAIL FOR DISOBEYING OFFICER

Given 25-Day Sentence After Entering Plea of Guilty at Summary Court

Harry E. Marshall, private in Battery D, 120th Field Artillery, W. N. G. was sentenced to 25 days in the county jail by a summary court, of the national guard, on charges of refusing to obey the commands of a superior officer and of disrespect to a superior officer. Marshall pleaded guilty to the charges.

Marshall was tried before Major J. M. Holley summary court officer, and was sentenced by Major Holley. The hearing took place in the Mormon Coulee road armory.

This is the first case to be tried in La Crosse under the national defense act. Marshall's offenses were violations of the 63rd and 96th articles of war.

RECOVER STOLEN BONDS

CINCINNATI.—Recover of $73,000 worth of bonds, part of $265,000 stolen in a holdup by bandits from the Hamilton County Bank on Walnut Hills, this city last September and $80,000 in unused federal reserve bank currency stolen in the holdup of the Denver Mint, was revealed Saturday by federal officers and private detectives.

FIRE CLOSES SCHOOL

WAUKESHA, Wis.—School children here are happy, as the result of a fire which caused enough damage to a school building here to force closing for repairs.

SUGGESTS PROPERTY HOLDERS ONLY VOTE ON BONDING ISSUES

MADISON, Wis.—England's property qualification for the privilege of voting in certain cases is proposed in a bill offered by Assemblyman A. B. Blomberg of Ogema. This bill provides that where bond issues are involved only those holding property shall be permitted to vote.

Women organizations are aroused over the bill and the hearing will be a "peppy one," judged from the protests of leaders of the women organizations. They claim that in many cities bond issues involve the building of school buildings and that the conservative property owners of the community would defeat such plans, if the ballot were denied.

Assemblyman Blomberg's idea is that only those who have property and pay taxes should be allowed to vote on an important matter, like a bond issue.

Because inventions made by professors are usually the result of labors on state time, Mr. Blomberg has offered another bill to make the state the beneficiary. By the terms of his bill the board of regents of the university would be allowed to apportion a part of the royalty of the invention to the inventor. It is pointed out by those who oppose the measure that the famous Babcock milk test was given free to the people of the world, without any patents or royalties.

Exemption of homestead improvements from taxation is provided in a bill by Senator O. H. Johnson. The republican platform made promises to reduce the taxes so as to help the pioneer, and the Johnson bill is the platform pledge on this subject. A measure along the same lines has been offered in the house by Assemblyman W. F. Miller of La Crosse county.

Senator Huber's resolution for the recall of officials is attracting a good deal of attention. It is applicable to county as well as state officers. The resolution provides that upon petition of twenty-five per cent of the voters, a special election shall be held for the recall.

The recall plan is being put through the legislature independent from the initiative and referendum. It is claimed that there are some who have objection to the recall of officials, who have no objections to either the initiative or the referendum plan.

Senator Quick will offer the junior college bill at this session of the legislature. The details have not been agreed upon and the measure has so far only been offered by title. It will probably be along the line of the measure two years ago. Major E. A. Fitzpatrick is one of the educational leaders for the junior college plan.

EIGHT ACTS ON BILL AT RIVOLI OPENING SUNDAY

Eight big acts are again booked for the vaudeville attraction at the Rivoli theater beginning Sunday afternoon, according to an announcement by the management. These acts are from the orpheum circuit, and are in a class with those seen last week.

Phessy and Powell will entertain with a singing and talking comedy act, entitled "Much Ado About Nothing," while Ray McKay and Blance Earle, well known musical comedy stars, will offer a sketch called "A Dog's Life in Two Parts." Don Lanning will entertain with a line of southern darkey stories. He is said to be one of the best on the circuits in recounting stories of plantation life. "A Nickle is a Nickle," say Mumford and Stanley, and they will endeavor to prove it in their comedy singing attraction. Peggy Bremen and brother in "The Imp's Playground," will present an unusual acrobatic act, with novel and astounding stage effects. Eleanor Pierce, assisted by Howard Bacon and Stuart Sayre, will be seen in a novel dancing act that has a plot. Fred and Elsie Burke are noted for their line of clever snappy talking, and their satirical sayings. Blackface art will be represented by Anderson and Goines, charter members of the "Lime Kiln" club.

SUPERIOR CARRIER PIGEON PICKED UP BY ASHLAND MAN

ASHLAND, Wis.—Wallace Ellison has picked up a carrier pigeon which was nearly frozen. He took it into the house and discovered it had a regulation metal tag on its leg. This tag bore the number 424 and designation "Allouez."

Superior was called by phone and it was found that the pigeon belonged to the "Allouez Pigeon club," and in company with a number of other pigeons had been taken to Rice Lake last Sunday and released. Most of the birds returned to their loft but this one became lost and landed at Ashland. It will be kept until the weather moderates and will then be released.

AVERT TRAIN ACCIDENT

MARINETTE, Wis.—The alertness of car repairers of the Chicago & Northwestern railroad at Marinette Saturday morning averted a possible accident when it was discovered that one of the rear wheels of a passenger coach of the train entering Marinette from Escanaba, Mich., had partially broken off. The train was sidetracked and repairs made.

The oldest paper money was that used in China in 2697 B. C.

WASHINGTON ARMS TREATIES RATIFIED BY ITALIAN SENATE

Approval of Pacts Made Occasion for Talk on World Affairs by Premier Mussolini

BORAH PROPOSAL FOR WORLD PARLEY "EXCESSIVE" HE SAYS

Denies Italy is Mediating in Ruhr Situation

ROME.—Ratification of the Washington conference agreements by the Italian Senate Friday was marked by a speech by Premier Mussolini in which he touched upon several topics of international interest.

Mussolini characterized United States Senator Borah's proposal for an international conference as too excessive. The premier said that Mr. Borah's position did not give him sufficient prestige to compel the acceptance "of his collection of more or less fantastic appeals."

The premier added, that if "responsible government officials," above all from those governments immediately interested and participating in the European situation, appealed to Italy he "would not hesitate a moment to respond."

He expressed pleasure over the Anglo-American debt settlement, but asked whether any one could now "nourish any illusions" as to the possibility of debt cancellations.

Turning to the Ruhr question, Mussolini denied that Italy was mediating between Germany and France. He said he had made it his business to conduct a searching inquiry into the whole situation and had concluded that the existence of the Entente was doubtful.

"Italy must make some choice as to her policy with Germany," Mussolini continued. "She is mindful of Germany's generosity toward her, but she cannot afford the luxury of generosity when it means the welfare of forty million Italians."

The failure affects especially commission firms and smaller banks. The cause is due to unfortunate dealings.

SPARTA-MELROSE AND ETTRICK RAIL LINE IS SUGGESTED

Utilization of 30 Miles of Narrow Gauge Line at Camp Robinson Being Talked

SPARTA, Wis.—Since the property at Camp Robinson has been turned over to the agricultural department, a new project is being talked about. There are more than thirty miles of narrow gauge railroad at the Camp, and the Government will likely offer this for sale. There has been a suggestion that this be bought and laid between Sparta and Melrose. Many years ago there was a project on foot to build an electric line between these two places and this situation has revived interest in the Sparta-Melrose railroad, which had lain dormant for fifteen years. The idea has also been advanced that the line could be continued to Ettrick, from Melrose, and there connect with the Ettrick and Northern. Senator Teasdale, who was one of the original promoters of the road project and one of the financial backers at that time, is still enthusiastic and when in the city last week from Madison expressed the wish that Sparta citizens would now get back of the idea and push it along. The Sparta-Melrose company already own a right of way between Sparta and Melrose, by way of Trout Falls. There was some grading done on it, and it is said, there is still some money left from its previous operations. As the Melrose people are interested in having a railroad, it may be that there would be financial support from there also.

BADGER NAMED HEAD OF FARM COMMITTEE OF BANKERS' BODY

MADISON, Wis.—Prof. D. H. Otis, who has been serving as director of the Banker-Farmer Exchange in Wisconsin, has been selected as Director of the Agricultural Commission of the American Bankers' Association, in pursuance of a recommendation adopted by the administrative committee. It will be the mission of Prof. Otis to establish contact between farmers and bankers in all parts of the country, as well as with all organizations working out farmers' problems.

To broaden the scope of the Commission an Advisory Council was selected and Dean H. L. Russell of the Wisconsin College of Agriculture, W. M. Jardine, President of the College of Agriculture at Manhattan, Kansas, and Dean W. R. Dodson of the Louisiana College of Agriculture at Baton Rouge, have consented to serve.

Cooperation with the agricultural schools of the country will be a part of the Commission's program.

One of the first steps to be taken by the new Director will be to arrange conferences in each of the twelve Federal Reserve Districts of the United States at which the officers of the bankers' associations will discuss rural problems with representatives of other organizations directly or indirectly interested in agricultural conditions.

RULES CITIES MUST BEAR THE EXPENSE OF VACCINATIONS

MADISON, Wis.—The expense of vaccination of school children and teachers made on order of a board of health must be borne by the city, town or village and cannot be charged to the county. F. E. Bump, assistant attorney general ruled Saturday. He advised V. M. Stoltz, district attorney of Eau Claire county that "under no circumstances can the county be charged with the expense of free vaccination ordered, even though a school affected is a county school."

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK—Profit-taking sales by speculative interests coincident with a resumption of pool operations in other quarters imparted an irregular trend to Saturday's brief and active session of the stock market. California Petroleum, Pan American and Boldwin were heavy at intervals, the last named sagging to 140½ after creating a new high record for the year at 142. Steel and Tube preferred, Columbia Gas, American Brake Shoe, Nash Motors, New Haven and American Linseed preferred also were under pressure. Buying continued heavier in the coppers, foods, motor accessories, tobaccos and low priced oils, several of which made substantial gains and established new high prices for the year. The closing was irregular. Sales approximated 700,000 shares.

CHICAGO GRAIN MARKET

CHICAGO, Ill.—Fresh upturns in the price of wheat took place Saturday during the early dealings, the chief factor being absence of any renewal of heavy selling. Besides, weather conditions in the winter wheat belt acted as a handicap to bears. Commission houses were the principal buyers. The opening which ranged from ⅛ to ½ to ⅝c higher, with May $1.20¼ to $1.20½ and July $1.16⅛ to $1.16¼, was followed by a slight reaction, but then the market rallied again.

Subsequently, resumption of selling on the part of houses with eastern conections led to a temporary downward swing in prices. Demand broadened on the decline, however, and the market recovered, bulls putting stress on the British debt settlement on asserted cheapness of wheat compared with the general commodity list. The close was unsettled ⅜c net lower to ⅛c advance, May $1.19⅞ to $1.20 and July $1.15¾ to $1.15⅞.

Corn and oats were firmer with wheat. After opening ⅛ to ⅝c up, May 75¼ to 75⅝c, the corn market scored a little further upturn, before beginning to react.

Speculative buying upheld the corn market when wheat displayed weakness. Corn closed unsettled ⅛ to ⅛ to ⅝ to ¾c net higher with May 75⅝ to ¾c.

Oats started ⅛c off to ⅜c advance, May 46⅛ to 46⅜c and later held near to the initial range.

Provisions showed a little strength with grain, despite lower quotations on hogs.

PRELIMINARIES OUT OF WAY AND WISCONSIN LEGISLATURE GETS DOWN TO SERIOUS WORK

MADISON, Wis.—By The Associated Press.—Preliminaries are over and the Wisconsin legislature is prepared to get down to serious work following a week of exceptional activity. Problems are now definitely outlined with plenty of evidence that many hard battles are ahead in what now looks like an assured long session.

Over 1,000 bills are before the two houses, embracing a scope of subjects of importance such as few past legislatures have attempted to deal with. From now on the session will spend its time grinding out laws from the multitude of proposals before it for consideration. Further bills if introduced, must come from committees.

The past week has brought out a large number of developments of importance to the state.

Socialist Stand Important

Probably of most vital importance is the announcement of Assemblyman Thomas Duncan, secretary of the socialist caucus that the socialists would oppose the Severson income surtax bill. This announcement is taken by political leaders as an attempt to force through the more comprehensive provisions of the Dahl income tax bill, before a vote is taken on the Severson measure which does not contain repeal of the personal property offset. The opinion is expressed that the socialists will vote for the bill introduced by Senator Severson, providing they are unable to get any other tax proposal through the legislature.

The way was laid out for a bitter battle over Wisconsin's educational problems by introduction of a bill by Speaker John L. Dahl providing for consolidation of the board of university regents, the board of normal regents and the state board of teachers' examiners into a single state board of education. A similar move in 1915 precipitated a fight that resulted in defeat for proponents of the measure.

Fight Over Education

Another fight over education was started brewing when Senator Teasdale introduced a bill requiring the state board of normal regents to establish college courses in the Milwaukee Normal School, which is renamed the Milwaukee State Teachers' college by the measure. College courses in normal schools are opposed by the teachers of the state, the board of normal regents, and the superintendent of public instruction.

Senator Henry Huber, administration leader in the upper house received a letter from Senator La Follette during the week, and as a result his "bonfire" resolution, providing for the destruction of the university round robin of censure for La Follette for his attitude on the war, will have a substitute amendment. This will urge some constructive action to bring the university back to the position it held as a peoples' institution twenty years ago, it is learned.

Bob Sends Orders

The legislature during the week was rather busy on the subject of Senator La Follette. His son Robert, Jr., was here with a message from the senator calling on the governor and the legislature to get busy to carry out pledges made by progressives in the last election. Assemblyman Minier brought in a resolution expressing the legislature's recognition of the La Follette leadership and denouncing those who denounced the senior senator during the war.

Then on top of this Senator O. H. Johnson, Gratiot, let it be known that he would have a resolution asking the legislature to express its opinion that La Follette should be the Progressive candidate for president on the Republican ticket in 1924.

Trouble Ahead for Guard

It begins to look as though the Wisconsin National guard would have hard sledding in the legislature following a favorable report of the assembly state affairs committee recommending a bill for passage which completely abolishes the trained militia. The committee vote was 8 to 2, and confidence is expressed by socialists that the measure will go through the lower house. The senate however, is not disposed to completely abolish the state guard, according to an expression from administration members who hold the votes that will decide the question. They say that they will stand for a drastic cut in appropriations for the state's military establishment.

Victory was pulled out of defeat by anti-administration senators during the week when by a parliamentary coup executed by Senator Roethe, they defeated a Socialist move to amend the constitution in order to remove the section prohibiting the state to engage in private business. The upper house action disposed of the proposal for the remainder of the session. Anti-administration senators joined with four administration men who left the ranks to defeat an anti-war resolution that came from the assembly.

Change in the primary election law to remove party restrictions at the primary, was favored by the upper house during the week while the assembly decided to repeal the state dog tax law.

MANY FAMILIES IN MILWAUKEE SUFFER FROM LACK OF COAL

City Experiencing Acute Fuel Famine as Result of Cold Wave

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—Milwaukee is suffering with an acute coal famine due to the cold wave.

There is a lack of coal in many homes and fuel dealers have been unable to supply the amazing demand which has sprung up within the last few days.

The city is destitute of anthracite coal and many families are said to be actually suffering. Fathers have appeared at several coal yards with physician's prescriptions begging fuel at any price to heat homes in which persons are seriously ill.

Telephone lines have been busy constantly at all coal offices for several days and constant streams of persons have called at such offices.

The head of a large fuel company declared Saturday he has been in the business here twenty-one years, but cannot recall when this city has been in such desperate straits.

F. O. B. Detroit

Never before has a FORD Sedan been sold at such a low price. And yet there has never before been such a well built Ford Sedan—improved with finer upholstery, with the adjustable regulators for the dropping windows and with many refinements in chassis construction. This is the family car which fully meets every requirement of economy, comfort, sturdy service and lasting merit. Its use is practically universal.

So great is the demand that within a few weeks deliveries will be almost impossible. We can protect you only if you list your order now. You may make a small down payment and arrange for the balance on easy terms.
